Arlington, Virginia

Metro Stop: Rosslyn

On Theodore Roosevelt Island is a 17-foot bronze statue of our 26th President, Theodore Roosevelt, surrounded by a terrace that is inscribed with the tenets of his philosophy.

The island and memorial are dedicated to President Roosevelt, whose leadership changed the public perception that America's natural resources were inexhaustible and established a greatly expanded role for the federal government in preserving our nation's natural resources.

This serene, 91-acre wooded island is a wildlife refuge with nearly two miles of hiking trails. There is no fee to visit the island memorial.

Times of Operation

The island is open to the public daily, 8 a.m. to dusk. The island is accessible by a footbridge from the parking lot off the northbound lane of the George Washington Memorial Parkway in Virginia. The closest Metro Stop is Rosslyn and is accessible via a pedestrian bridge that crosses over the George Washington Memorial Parkway from Rosslyn Circle.
